

2. Possessive of nouns. Singular nouns take apostrophe, s (man's, James's); plurals, if they do not end in s, form the possessive by the same rule (men's, geese's), but, if they end in s, take an apostrophe only (boys').

3. Comparative and superlative of adjectives and adverbs. In monosyllables and some disyllables (e.g. those in -y) add -er and -est (bolder), -e wds dropping the -e (bravest), and disyllables in y having -ier and -iest (happier, luckiest); in other cases prefix more and most (more beautiful, most splendid). Monosyllables double a final single consonant (except x and w) if preceded by a single vowel (grimmer). This may be stated in the dictionary.

4. Third person singular present of verbs. Sibilants and -o wds add -es (pushes, goes); -y wds change -y into -ies (cries); other verbs add -s (sings).

5. Past and p.p. of verbs. -e wds add -d (moved); -y wds change -y into -ied (relied); other verbs add -ed (trusted, vetoed); if the final consonant is doubled, it is stated in the dictionary, thus: glut, v.t. (-tt-); revel, v.i. & t. (-ll-).

6. Participle of verbs. All verbs add -ing (fishing), -e wds dropping the -e (dancing); monosyllables double a final single consonant (except x) if preceded by a single vowel (grabbing).

7. Archaic 2nd and 3rd singular of verbs. The forms in -(e)st and -(e)th, being archaic, need only be mentioned, without rules; -(e)st is 2nd sing. present and past, -(e)th is 3rd sing. present; examples are playest, dost, hear'st, madest, wouldest, saith, goeth.
